

Tip 2: Foster a Fun Working Environment for Your Team

Being fun to be around and ensuring the environment you and your team work in is fun motivates your team into producing a high standard of work

Create an atmosphere of fun in which your team will unroll and unwind to the fullest potential

- Adding some trendy posters around the room
- Masterminding the installation of fruit juice machine
- Being a cool person to be around

- Do not be a grumpy Scrum Master
- Team members always appreciate a sense of humour so go for it with some well placed jokes and a positive attitude

In Summary

A top-down view of a wooden desk. In the center is a spiral-bound notebook with a blank, lined page. A hand is holding a pen over the notebook. To the right of the notebook is a white cup of dark coffee on a matching saucer. The background is a warm, textured wooden surface.

- To motivate team members, be as fun as the situation allows.
- Think about what you can do to make the work place better looking and more inviting. A good work environment is inspiring.
- Use your sense of humour as you work; understand how to take the pressure off serious situations without losing the focus. Fun allows people to loosen up and enjoy their work.

In Summary

A top-down view of a wooden desk. In the center is a spiral-bound notebook with a blank, lined page. A hand is holding a pen over the notebook. To the right of the notebook is a white cup of dark coffee on a matching saucer. The background is a warm, textured wooden surface.

- To motivate team members, be as fun as the situation allows.
- Think about what you can do to make the work place better looking and more inviting. A good work environment is inspiring.
- Use your sense of humour as you work; understand how to take the pressure off serious situations without losing the focus. Fun allows people to loosen up and enjoy their work.