

Tip 1: Be Knowledgeable and Responsible In Your Role

Do everything possible to fit into your shoes

- ▶ Knowledgeable
- ▶ Responsible

Being a Scrum Master is a position that requires serious commitment

The developers often cannot find their own way through all the politics, impediments, and all else that comes with being in the team.

In Summary

- Be committed to your position as a Scrum Master so you can become the North Star for the team
- If you are effective in your duties, you will both impress and motivate the team
- The team's success is something you can strongly affect; take that responsibility seriously and you will find the role very rewarding

In Summary

- Be committed to your position as a Scrum Master so you can become the North Star for the team
- If you are effective in your duties, you will both impress and motivate the team
- The team's success is something you can strongly affect; take that responsibility seriously and you will find the role very rewarding